Corbett Idol of the Hour at New Orleans.

The Californian's Generosity to His Fallen Adversary.

Sullivan Seeks Solace in a Jag of Huge Proportions.

Peter Jackson Wants a Fight With the New Champion, but May Not Get It—Poor Sullivan's Maudlin Talk.

By Telegram to the Times.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 8.—[By the Associated Press.] At the conclusion of the fight last night Corbett and party left the Olympic Club in the midst of a perfect ovation. They were driven to an up-town gymnasium, where an enthusiastic crowd of onlookers and guests numbering 2000 gathered. Corbett made a modest speech in response to an ovation. He said he started his career in the Southern Athletic Club when he was scarcely known, and now that he had risen to the top of the ladder he feels profoundly grateful for the courtesy and attention showered upon him by the club. At the conclusion of his speech the new champion was surrounded by a crowd who shook his hands until they were sore. He was then carried to his room, where he found telegrams awaiting him from all parts of the country. Champagne corks then began to pop and many healths were drunk to the new luminary. Corbett himself declined to drink, saying he did not want to be like other pugilists. Milk was good enough for him. At 1 o'clock the new champion was permitted to retire and dream of the honors which had been showered on him.

The Sullivan party remained late at club, but the crowd lining the doors till Sullivan and his friends came out and took a carriage and went to their hotel. The sporting fraternity which had not been caught with their money on Sullivan generally rejoiced that the deposed champion had been whipped.

SULLIVAN A FITTING OBJECT. Sullivan was still sleeping at 10:30 this morning when an Associated Press correspondent was admitted to his apartment. His wife was so swollen and the skin was drawn so tightly that it shone when the light fell upon it. His lips were disfigured and distorted, giving his face a hideously fantastic appearance. His nose, though not broken, was cut on both sides from the bridge to the base. The man of extreme confidence yesterday was completely beaten down. Johnson and Wakeley, Sullivan's backers, have not yet determined what their course will be.

Corbett will join a traveling troupe with which he has been exhibiting himself here and will at tonight's performance be handed the Olympic Club's check for $45,000. A benefit for Sullivan is being projected to take place in New York.

Between 11 and 12 o'clock Sullivan was roused and taken to the Gymnastic Club, where he was given a Turkish bath and rubbing.

WAKES UP FAMOUS. Corbett awoke feeling refreshed and in the condition, he ate a splendid breakfast. His trainers wanted him to drink something, but he did not want to do so and said he intended to continue abstemious. His rest last night was very refreshing and he woke this morning as fresh as a lark. In company with Big Boy Delaney he walked over to the Southern Athletic Club, and was overwhelmed with congratulations from his friends. He finally broke away from them, and sat down to write a letter to his parents, giving account of his great victory. To others he said he was not surprised at the result, because he knew when he went into the ring the big fellow was not his equal in skill or endurance. He was ready, however, to accord Sullivan a hearty congratulations, and said he was a wonderful fighter, and every inch a fighter, but what he lacked was the ability to use his hands and avoid a cleverness.

The exodus of the talent from the town has begun; that is, of those who are solvent. The fact that there are not more financially reduced is due to the absence of Corbett money before the fight.

CORBETT'S GENEROSITY. Champion Jim Corbett will bid adieu to his New Orleans friends tomorrow afternoon. The Corbett people have engaged a special train on the Piedmont air line, leaving here Saturday morning at 4 o'clock. The young pugilist will receive a rousing send-off notwithstanding the early hour. Corbett showed generosity in a remarkable manner last night, when he sent word to Sullivan that he would not only spar four rounds with him at the benefit to be held at Madison Square Garden, September 27, but would pay $1000 for a box for the performance. When Corbett went to Sullivan's corner and helped him to his chair, he held out his hand and said: "John, will you shake hands with me?" Sullivan replied: "Yes, my boy, I'm glad it was you that won."

There was considerable talk last night of a serious matter regarding the stake money on Sullivan's end of the string. It was said that while Charley Johnson and Jimmy Wakeley got the credit for being the backers of Sullivan, there is good ground for the belief that the whole $10,000 was put up by Percy Rockwell, who has since died, and there is a possibility of the estate suing the stockholder to recover the money.

The rumor that Jack McAuliffe lost $18,250 which he won in the fight with Myer, besides $5000 which he borrowed, betting on Sullivan, is false. In part, as the money, with the exception of $5000, was not placed, although McAuliffe told his trainer to do so.

The biggest loser of the day, as far as can be ascertained, is John Kelley of New York, the ex-baseball umpire, who backed the great champion of champions for $21,000. If there was ever a crest-fallen crowd of sporting people, it is the Manhattan contingent of New York. They came here full of enthusiasm for Sullivan, and staked their money on the issue. They came on a special train and counted on making it the banner train from New Orleans to New York, and Mr. Blake, of the Manhattan Athletic Club, who is in charge of the party, claimed yesterday afternoon that they forgot following his advice and blue lights to be found in New Orleans and they intended setting them off all along the road on their way home.

JACKSON TO CHALLENGE CORBETT. "Parson" Davies, who won a large amount of money on Corbett, will issue a challenge in a few days in behalf of Peter Jackson to fight Jim Corbett for a stake such as he will then name or can be agreed upon and the largest purse offered.

Delaney thinks Sullivan could have been whipped at any time after the first round, but he advised Corbett to go slow and let Sullivan get his wind up. Although he did it with reluctance, desiring to show the crowd what he could do, "Corbett" will never meet Jackson again.

"Poor John" is the most frequent expression in regard to the ex-champion while he had made many enemies by over-bearing tactics when in his cups, still Sullivan was looked upon as one man to protect the pugilistic championship of the world and keep it on his own side of the water. Doubts were freely expressed as to Corbett's ability to retain the honor as long as the man he has just defeated. Said an old sport, and he voices a majority of opinions: "Well, so it's Corbett. He's a good man; but there never was but one Sullivan and there never will be poor John."

A TALK WITH KILRAIN. Surprised and Sore That Sullivan Lost the Great Fight. BALTIMORE, Sept. 8.—[By the Associated Press.] "I'm much surprised," said Jake Kilrain, when asked what he thought of the fight this morning. "So sure was I the big fellow would win I placed $200 upon him. Sullivan did wrong to fight Corbett. When we fought two years ago near New Orleans Sullivan knew then that although he remained champion he had sufficient reason for retiring on his laurels. I'm not only surprised at the result, but I'm grieved as well. Sullivan is a much older man than Corbett, and after the numerous fights he had I would prefer to see him wear the championship belt. Corbett is young, and a little loss would count but little. As things now stand it would be hard for Sullivan to secure backers if he challenges Corbett. The first fight between the champion and Peter Jackson would now be of exceptional interest."

When asked as to his own pugilistic intentions, Jake answered that he had a good business and did not desire to sacrifice it by engaging in any kind of pugilistic encounters.

GOT NO BOOTY. A Santa Fe Train Held Up in the Cherokee Strip.

The Express Messenger Manages to Escape the Contents of His Safe and all the Robbers Depart Empty Handed.

By Telegram to the Times. GUTHRIE (Okla.) Sept. 8.—[By the Associated Press.] The south-bound passenger train on the Santa Fe Road was held up by train-robbers at Wharton in the Cherokee Strip tonight, twenty miles north of this city. When the train arrived here several bullet holes were found inside the express car. Police Captain Barry stated that when the train stopped to take water he walked down the track and was met by the engineer who was in charge of five men. The engineer said that when he stopped at Wharton, three men mounted the engine and ordered him to get down and go to the express car. There they found the freeman batter in the door. "The express messenger fired one shot through it, but desisted when the freeman told him the robber compelled him to do the work."

The door was soon opened and the robbers at once entered. They found the safe empty, the messenger having opened it while the door was being broken in and secreted its contents. Failing to find any booty the robbers left, taking with them two buckets of grapes and a tin of raisins. No attempt to rob the passengers was made.

Sept. 8.—A gang of boys and strikers lined the streets leading from the hill this evening, and the non-union men came out to support them, peered, stoned them and hit them with sticks. Balls of paper containing names of boys also were thrown into their faces. The strikers did not take any part save to encourage the boys by their presence. Several deputies were in the vicinity, but no effort to arrest the boys was made.

Could Not Agree on Rates. CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—After four days' profitless wrangling over the Pacific Coast rate situation the passenger meeting of the Transcontinental Association adjourned yesterday subject to the call of the chairman. The only result of the meeting thus far developed is the withdrawal of the Canadian Pacific from the organization. Every effort to reach an amicable adjustment of the existing differences fell flat.

The Garfield Park War. CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Mayor Washburne decided today to let all differences between himself and Chief McLaughry rest until Garfield Park is permanently closed. He wrote the chief today commending the anti-gambling raids emphatically. There was no racing today.

DeYoung, acting chairman of the Executive Committee, in which he resigns as a member of the committee. Sharon says that owing to his views on the silver question, he cannot remain on the committee.

Mrs. Corbett's Pool for the Vanquished. What Gotham Sports Say. NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—[By the Associated Press.] Mrs. James Corbett, wife of the new champion pugilist of the world, was up with the sun this morning in order to get the morning papers and read the account of her husband's victory. Not a comma, quotation mark, letter or syllable escaped her notice. "Wasn't that nice of Mr.

Sullivan to say what he did?" she asked, and then, woman-like, she proceeded to commiserate with "Mr. Sullivan."

There was joy all through the Coleman House this morning. The majority of the employees bet on Corbett, principally on account of the hotel being Corbett and his wife's favorite hostelry. Telegrams were received at the hotel from Manager Brady ordering a brass band to meet the returning party at the depot and escort the victor in state to the hotel.

ON THE ROCKS.

The Ill-fated Whaleback a Total Wreck.

A Calaveras Crime Which May Be Followed by a Lynching.

Proceedings of the American Bankers' Association.

Preparations for the Celebration of Admission Day in California—Ontario's Proposed New Water Works—Other Coast News.

By Telegram to the Times. EXPIRE CITY (Or.) Sept. 8.—[By the Associated Press.] The whaleback freight steamer Charles W. Wetmore, which has met with so much ill luck since her arrival on the Pacific Coast, has again run ashore and in all probability will prove a total loss. At 12:30 a.m., today, while a dense fog hung over the water, she went ashore on North Spit, near the entrance to Coos Bay. The ill-fated steamer at once began to blow distress whistles, which were heard by the Coos Bay life-saving crew but, owing to the density of the fog prevailing, it was nearly noon before the crew reached the vessel. The life-saving crew summoned the tugs Hunter and Liberty and as soon as the fog lifted sufficiently to enable them to proceed they started to the relief of the whaleback's crew. The whole crew, numbering twenty-two, were rescued and brought to this city.

The Wetmore left Tacoma on Monday morning last, bound for San Francisco, with a cargo of 2400 tons of coal. Her cargo was shifted heavily to port. Capt. J. A. O'Brien and Second Mate John G. North were on watch at the time the vessel struck. The Wetmore is now lying parallel with the shore, and the breakers which roll over the vessel are slowly pounding her to pieces and there is scarcely a hope that she will ever be floated again. When the crew were taken off she was leaking badly. Capt. O'Brien expects to go on board with his men tomorrow.

The report of the executive council embodied a resolution that this association most heartily recommends to the American people the construction of the Nicaragua Canal under American Government control. The resolution was greeted with a burst of applause and adopted by the assembly.

Frank W. Tracy, editor of the California Bankers' Magazine, read a paper entitled "Proposed Remedies for the Evils of the Present Paper Issue of the United States for the Present Low Price of Silver, and for the Present Political Banking."

THE CABRILLO CELEBRATION. Many Men-of-war Will Be Present—The Program Outlined. The full programme will shortly be made public. A pavilion 200x300 feet in size is to be erected on the plaza for the accommodation of the audience during the literary exercises. A regatta on the bay and a lengthy entertainment by a band of 100 Indians have been arranged for. Many more Indians from the reservation will be present. The electric railway, now in course of construction, will be in operation on September 28 and 29, the days of the celebration.

MAY BE LYNCHED. A Worthless Character Shoots a Girl Who Resisted Him. STOCKTON, Sept. 8.—[By the Associated Press.] Antone Patti, a worthless character, on Monday evening shot and seriously wounded Miss Mabel Wheeler at Copperopolis. Patti was desperately in love with the girl and when she refused to have anything to do with him shot her twice. Patti was arrested and taken to San Andreas. Threats of lynching him are being made.

McWHIRTER'S DEATH. Efforts Now Made to Establish a Suicide Theory.

Sensational Episodes During the Hearing Before the Coroner—The Widow's Representative and District Attorney Disagree.

By Telegram to the Times. FRESNO, Sept. 8.—[By the Associated Press.] The McWhirter inquest has been the absorbing topic here today. The courtroom was crowded all the afternoon, and at times it looked as though developments were at hand, but they always failed to materialize. James Budd of Stockton, in attendance. He watches the proceedings closely, and examines everything brought forward, but it is not known where interest is looking for.

Crittenden Thornton, of San Francisco is representing Mrs. McWhirter. He watched closely all that took place, but said very little until late this afternoon, when he suddenly took up the fight against what he termed the official on the part of the county officials and especially Deputy District Attorney H. H. Welsh, to prove that McWhirter committed suicide. A warm exchange of words took place between Thornton and Welsh during the examination of A. Warneke, a gunsmith. Warneke had repeatedly stated that the pistol which McWhirter was shot had not been found at his store, but Welsh continued to press him. Thornton, turning to Welsh, said: "If it is your purpose to prove that both pistols found on the ground belonged to McWhirter put me on the stand, I can tell you something you don't know. If this is what you are driving at we can assist you."

Welsh replied angrily: "We want all the light we can get. If you know anything we want it, and we will put you on the stand."

Thornton replied: "You shall have light to your heart's content, or perhaps your heart's discontent, before this affair is finished. We will tell you that McWhirter had two pistols, but that the one he was shot by the assassin was not one of them."

H. C. Tupper, who is assisting Welsh, said: "This is an insinuation against our integrity and we will not allow it." Thornton responded that he could not control the inquest, and Welsh said, angrily: "Nobody is trying to control it. We want the truth."

The excitement in the courtroom ran high for a while there is much public comment here upon the efforts to establish the suicide theory, and it is the general impression that the facts so far elicited at the inquest do not tend to establish that theory. The principal testimony produced was that of several persons who heard the shooting, at the time McWhirter was killed. They stated that they heard six or seven shots fired and they ran to McWhirter's yard where they found McWhirter's body with a pistol lying beside it. They testified to seeing boxes under the window by standing upon which a person could see into the room, and they also told of tracks on the ground leading away from the scene of the shooting.

PASADENA.

Throop University Items—A Public Meeting Called.

Indignation Meeting at South Pasadena—A Wheelbarrow Ride as a Wage—Points About People You Know—Brevities.

The public meeting called for tonight at Williams' hall by the Board of Trade to tender some formal recognition to R. A. G. Throop for the generosity and philanthropic spirit he has displayed in establishing the university and manual training school here, has been postponed until next Thursday evening at the same place. President Keyes of the university has been absent from town so that arrangements could not be completed for holding the meeting tonight.

The Board of Trade deems it only proper to take the initiative in giving voice to a public expression of appreciation, which will undoubtedly meet the approval of every property-owner and resident of the town. The manual training school, now nearing completion, is an institution whose advantages to the community cannot be overestimated. It will be large enough to accommodate 200 scholars, and the faculty have good reason to believe that almost this number will enter at the opening of the term. Three-fourths of this number will come from outside the city, and in many instances their families will accompany them. Thus the school will be a source of life and vigor to the community, and will produce a corresponding beneficial effect in the various channels of trade. The public will do well if they turn out in mass to the meeting next Thursday, and thus indicate their appreciation of the great institution Father Throop has started here.

The university is fortunate in being the recipient of a generous gift from Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Thayer of Los Angeles. In the shape of a cabinet of 500 specimens of minerals, scientifically classified and arranged for students' use. These collections were the work of their son Henry, who died about two years ago. He was an enthusiastic collector, and his cabinet is presented for the free use and benefit of all students of the university for all time. As the 'thayer' collection is so young and the young generations will profit by his work, and he will live on for others.

SOUTH PASADENA CITIZENS INDIGNANT.
A few days ago the people of South Pasadena were much indignant at the fact that the Santa Fé road proposed to displace with its agent there and make the place a flag station. Yesterday evening a public indignation meeting was held at the Public Library to protest against the proposed change.

A majority of the representative citizens were present, including the members of the City Council. Elias Longley was chosen chairman and Homer Earle acted as secretary. The room was crowded to its full capacity and all present acted as if they meant business.

After the object of the meeting had been stated Mr. Dougherty read the deed of the land occupied by the station and adjacent property, as made over to the Los Angeles and San Gabriel Valley Railroad, which was afterward assigned to the Santa Fé. Mr. Longley read a statement, which showed that the road's receipts from the station during the year ending June 30, 1892, exceeded those of the previous year by the sum of $107.07. After the matter had been informally discussed a committee composed of E. B. Easton, E. H. Rust and Mr. Earle, was appointed to call upon the Santa Fé's officials to see if some satisfactory arrangement, cannot be made. The committee will report to the meeting this morning for that purpose.

The matter has stirred up considerable feeling in the town, and it is claimed, will prove detrimental to the public's interests in more ways than one. Aside from the inconvenience of not being able to use the station at the station, those shipping goods by freight will be placed at a disadvantage. Telegraph and express companies will also be practically cut off. The fact was brought out at the meeting that the town is steadily growing, which the citizens think should entitle them to a station. Another objection raised to making it a flag station is that there are sharp curves on either side of the station, which will make it difficult to stop a train for passengers unless it is under full control.

It is understood that a new arrangement is to go into effect inside of a few days.

CORRETT AND SULLIVAN.
Pretty nearly all the sports in town congregated at the Brunswick billiard hall Wednesday evening to get the returns from the Corbett-Sullivan fight. During the day Corbett money was very scarce, but after the first few bulletins had arrived friends of the Californian plucked up courage and put up some coin. Yesterday the town was full of 'I told you so' and 'I was right'.

After a considerable time spent in securing a jury the case of Charles Lamb of National City, on a charge of indecent exposure, was commenced before Judge Sloane Thursday morning. By noon most of the evidence for the prosecution was in the hands of several little girls who given proving exposure and improper liberties with their persons.

BRIEF MENTION.
A petition in insolvency has been filed by Frank Johnson, who places his assets at $10,000, and liabilities at $2,500.

The Pacific Mail steamer San José arrived from San Francisco Wednesday morning and in the afternoon cleared for southern ports.

SAN BERNARDINO COUNTY.

The Charges Against Dr. Keating Being Investigated.

The Tax Rate at Redlands—Charged With Murder—More Parks for the City of Riverside—New Notes and Personal.

SAN BERNARDINO.
The County Supervisors have been busy for the past two days investigating the charges against Dr. A. C. Keating. These charges were preferred by W. T. Bidwell, who was formerly superintendent of the County Hospital but was discharged last spring, when Dr. Keating was made superintendent of the hospital in addition to his duties as County Physician. Ever since his discharge Bidwell has been trying to stir up dissensions between the Supervisors and Dr. Keating, and especially to increase the feeling of dislike between the doctor and Supervisor Victor. These efforts resulted in Bidwell's filing with the board an affidavit charging Dr. Keating with drunkenness while in the discharge of his duties.

A New Trial Granted in the Lee Damage Case.

Judge Clark of the Opinion That the Verdict Was Excessive and Would Not Stand on Appeal—General Court Notes.

Judge Clark rendered his decision yesterday afternoon granting the motion for a new trial in the case of Charles A. Lee vs. the Southern Pacific Company, which in March last resulted in a verdict for the plaintiff for $25,000 damages.

Plaintiff was employed as a brakeman by defendant, and while so employed and while switching on a side track near Honby, in this county, the accident complained of occurred. Plaintiff was riding upon the pilot of the engine and stooped over to raise the coupling bar to make a coupling with a flat-car standing upon the side track, when a jolt occurred and his foot slipped and caught, and the engine passed over his leg, crushing it so that it became necessary to amputate it about four inches below the knee.

The motion was granted on the ground that the verdict was excessive. The judge stating that he did not think that it would stand on appeal.

Court Notes.
Judge Ross heard argument yesterday in the United States Circuit Court on the demurrer in the case of the Santa Ana Water Company vs. the town of San Buenaventura, and at the close thereof ordered that each side be allowed ten days' time within which to file briefs.

The only case upon the calendar of Department Three yesterday morning was that of Julius B. Cohn vs. Maria Espiritu de Leonis, but when that was called by Judge Wade counsel for both sides desired a continuance, and it was passed to rest.

Judge Van Dyke yesterday morning sustained the demurrer of the plaintiff in the case of Henry Thomas vs. G. M. Samson et al., to that part of the answer styled a counter-claim, but overruled it as to the remainder of the answer. The motion of the defendant O. Porter to set aside the order for publication of the summons in the same case was denied.

The motion to amend the bill of exceptions in the case of G. Egner vs. Emma Juch et al. by inserting therein the affidavit for the attachment which was used at the trial was granted by Judge Van Dyke yesterday morning.

Judge Shaw yesterday morning ordered findings and judgment for the plaintiff in the case of C. W. Gardner vs. J. O'Hanrahan for the recovery of the land in controversy and for costs of suit.

Judge McKinley tried the case of Web Smith vs. Fred Baumgartner yesterday afternoon, and at the close of the testimony and argument took it under advisement. This was an action to recover possession of a set of double harness valued at $25 and for $25 damages, which was appealed from Judge Austin's court.

New Suits.
Among the documents filed with the County Clerk yesterday were the preliminary papers in the following new cases:

Nannie Catching vs. C. Kitchmar, suit to recover $700 damages alleged to have been sustained by reason of the conversion to his own use by defendant of an Everett piano, belonging to plaintiff.

George H. Smith et al. vs. Santa Monica Wharf and Terminal Railway Company; suit to recover $2000, alleged to be due for professional services rendered.

Patricia in voluntary insolvency of W. R. Lewis, a contractor; liabilities, $3309.10; assets, nil.

A. S. Halsted vs. Union Oil Company of California et al.; suit to obtain an accounting and relief.

W. H. Holmes vs. J. A. Reimers et al.; suit to recover $546.83 alleged to be due for goods, etc., sold and delivered by Kowalsky & Co., by whom said claim was assigned to plaintiff.

Stole Old Iron.
Julius Smith, a young negro who has been before the Police Courts several times before, was yesterday arrested by Officer Bates upon complaint of an employee of the cable road. For some time past pulleys and other articles of iron which have been left along the company's lines, have been frequently missing, taken, presumably, by some one who turned disposed of them at the junk shops as old iron. Finally the negro was detected with some of the missing property in his possession and was taken into custody. He will probably be tried today.

Saved His Child's Life.
A. N. Dillerbough, York, Neb., says: "The other day I came home and found my little boy down with cholera morbus, my wife scared, not knowing what to do. I went straightway and got a 2-cent bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and gave it according to directions. You never saw such a change in a child. His limbs and body were cold. I rubbed his limbs and body with my hands, and after I had given him the second dose he went to sleep, and as my wife says, 'from a death-bed he was up playing in three hours.' It saved me a doctor bill of about $50, and what is better, it saved my child. I can recommend it with a clear conscience." For sale by John Beckwith & Son, druggists, 203 North Main street.

The Art of Dressing!

There are many of our lady patrons who have not a large sum to expend in dresses, yet have the desire to look well and be becomingly attired, even though the amount in dollars and cents does not come up to an extravagant figure. Some ladies are fortunate in selecting materials that always look nicely as long as they hold together—they never select striking colors, large designs or very prominent and glaring patterns. Our Dress Stuffs for this fall are by far the most varied and select than has been the case since the establishment of our house. Fine grade fabrics, such as were unknown to the trade and their possibility of sale somewhat doubted, have been placed in stock this season with a determination to exhibit only the best of Dress Stuffs before our patrons. In the popular half-dollar fabrics our line is ahead of any we have ever shown; they comprise Storm Serges, Wave Cheviots, Viglones, in two tones and solids, etc., etc. A dress of any of this line will prove to the most skeptical that we are offering better 50c value in All-wool Dress Fabrics than it is possible to procure elsewhere. Watch our windows for constant new and startling values.
